Integration Defiance Rages In Louisiana

Boycott by Whites at One School Shows
Signs of Weakening

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — New Orleans ended 10 days of token school integration today with the Louisiana Legislature offering new defiance of a federal court while moving toward a system of both public and private schools.

The weekend holiday offered a respite from pickets who have screamed hatred at one school where a boycott by white pupils showed signs of weakening.

A complete boycott of white pupils held through the week at McDonogh No. 19 Elementary School, attended by three Negro girls in the first grade. Irate women and a few men concentrated their picketing on the William Frantz School, where 10 white children joined one Negro student Friday.

10 Attend School

Only one white child was brought to the Frantz school last Monday. Five more showed up Thursday and another four Friday. The two schools have a total enrollment of over 1,000. Many of the pupils have been going to school in an adjoining parish.

United States marshals escorted the Negroes to and from school. Patrolmen provided protection for white children passing near demonstrators to enter Frantz school. Boiling pickets and spectators were held across the street from the school by 100 or more police.

The Louisiana House gave quick, unanimous approval Friday to a bill providing grant-in-aid funds for parents who wish to send their children to private schools. A sponsor said the measure would not interfere with the public school system. The measure won speedy approval from a Senate committee Friday night.

Building Lease Signed

Leases were signed on two buildings to be converted into private schools for pupils in the first three grades of Frantz and McDonogh schools.

C. E. Vetter, a member of the Downtown Citizens Council in New Orleans said volunteers would work on the structures over

Churchmen Gather for Conclave

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Christian church, gathering here today, have come a long way since a little incident back in 1870. That's when seven pastors of various denominations in Westerville, R. I., had their picture taken together to prove "that the Church of Christ in Westerville is one."

Today, the evidence was far more than any photograph. Representatives of 33 denominations with 40 million members, most of the major Protestant and Orthodox churches of the nation, were arriving for a joint policy-making conclave on cooperative church work.

The affair is the triennial general assembly of the National Council of Churches, which opens Sunday.

Presbyterians, Lutherans, Baptists, Methodists, Episcopalians, Greek Orthodox, Catholic, Congregationalists and a host of others—Christians who used to work separately—were here to work together.

The week-long assembly marks the 10th anniversary of the interdenominational council. The council services the churches with a variety of experts—in evangelism, architecture, Christian education and stewardship, among other things.

It coordinates foreign missionary activity, provides a ministry to Americans overseas, to farm migrants, summer park visitors and the armed forces chaplaincy, and produces radio and television programs.

Pope, Archbishop Touch Threshold of Problems

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII said today his historic meeting with the Archbishop of Canterbury "went only as far as the threshold of great problems," but left hope for their eventual solution.

The supreme pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church made this comment to cardinals and archbishops with whom he participated in preparatory services for the Christmas season.

At the end of the services, the Pope told the prelates of his 65-minute talk Friday with the primate of the Church of England. "I admire the sincere force of good will which Dr. Fisher (the archbishop) is carrying forward," the Pope said.

"Our meeting took place in an atmosphere of cordiality and understanding on both sides."

"Of course," the Pope said, "our talks went only as far as the threshold of great problems."

"Naturally the cruxes formed during four centuries are many, but with understanding and mutual contacts, (in) which Dr. Fisher courageously undertook to take the initiative, with time there could come love and the truth."

The general view in church circles in Rome was that the meeting—the first ever between a head of the Catholic Church and a primate of the Anglican Church—would stimulate other contacts between Catholic and Protestant churchmen seeking Christian unity.

Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, the 73-year-old archbishop, said he considered the meeting historic, and told newsmen "good examples are sometimes followed."

He observed cautiously, however, that he did not know what the results would be. In a sermon here Thursday night he made it clear that he did not consider Christian unity necessarily means reunion with the Church of Rome.

There are reasons for the archbishop's caution because 79-year-old Pope John repeatedly speaks of his hopes that "separated" Christians will return to the Roman Catholic Church.

Chicago Vote Recount Shows Minor Changes

GOP Chief Stands
By as Officials
Continue Recheck

CHICAGO (AP)—The Republican national chairman stood by today, espousing the cause of an honest count, as teams of election officials sifted through reams of paper ballots and Republicans hoped for a belated surge for Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

To overturn President-elect John F. Kennedy's Nov. 8 victory in Illinois, GOP officials said they needed an average of 9 additional votes per precinct. But the current recheck so far showed only minor changes in the original returns.

Cook County Provided Edge

Kennedy carried the state, with its 27 electoral votes, by 8,849 votes out of nearly 4 1/2 million cast. Cook County gave him the razor-thin edge he needed.

Friday GOP Chairman Thruston B. Morton came to town and his appearance in the Citizens for Nixon-Lodge headquarters funneled new steam into a controversy which had been chugging along for days.

"I'm not here as part of a conspiracy to deny Sen. Kennedy the presidency," Morton declared at a news conference. "I didn't come into this state half-cocked. I had evidence before I came."

Democrats were angrily denouncing GOP charges of vote fraud and irregularities in this pro-Kennedy territory.

Mayor Richard J. Daley, Cook County Democratic chairman, posed this question at a civic luncheon: "Will we let people tear down the good name of Chicago without having the facts and figures, as they are trying to do in this voting situation?"

Held Press Conference

Chairman Morton held his press conference only half a block from City Hall, where teams of deputy election commissioners were poring through paper ballots from 906 precincts. Their task was to determine whether sufficient cause exists for an official recount petition.

"Our intention here," Morton said, "is not necessarily to seek votes, but to protect the sanctity of the ballot."

"Our plan of attack is to get

Reds In Laos Reported on Offensive

VIENTIANE, Laos (delayed and cut by censor) (AP)—Pro-Communist Pathet Lao radio announced Friday night that its forces have gone on the offensive against right-wing rebel Gen. Phoumi Nosavan's troops on the Namkadinh River and around the royal capital of Luang Prabang.

The Namkadinh, 100 miles east of Vientiane, commands one of the main approaches to the city. Phoumi's forces made a major effort to breach it Tuesday in an apparent advance on the administrative capital of Vientiane, seat of Laos' neutralist government.

Luang Prabang, residence of the King of Laos, has been in Phoumi's hands for three weeks. Western military experts estimated Phoumi's forces on the Namkadinh front at five to nine companies backed by artillery, armored cars and small caliber rocket launchers.

The Communist broadcast said a force of Pathet Lao troops had encircled Luang Prabang and was attacking rebel defenders on the outskirts.

Government troops also were closing in on the royal capital. The fighting around Luang Prabang does not appear to have developed into a major offensive so far.

LUMUMBA AFTER CAPTURE — Patrice Lumumba, left, foreground, sits in army truck under guard of Congolese soldiers after arrival at Leopoldville airport Friday. Deposed Congo premier, hands manacled behind him, was flown from Congo hinterlands to Congo capital to face trial on charge of inciting the army to revolt.

Lumumba Taken Out of Capital

Will Go on Trial for Fomenting Rebellion

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Ex-Premier Patrice Lumumba, facing trial for inciting rebellion in the army and other crimes, was moved out of Leopoldville and put under the guard of army chief Joseph Mobutu's most trusted commando troops.

Lumumba was driven to Thysville, 100 miles west of the capital, during the night under a strong escort of soldiers with heavy, jeep-mounted machine guns.

The convoy left the improvised jail at the army's Binza Camp near Leopoldville with its slippery prisoner shortly before midnight.

The trip was made less than seven hours after Lumumba, who more than once has evaded arrest or escaped from the hands of political captors, arrived in the Congo capital.

He was flown here Friday after being captured at Port Francqui, in remote Kasai province. His capture interrupted a flight by car to Stanleyville where he apparently intended to make a new bid for power.

He arrived here disheveled and manacled and was jeered by onlookers and cuffed by Congolese soldiers.

Leftist Students Give Up In Venezuela

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — The surrender of gun-fighting students barricaded in Caracas University apparently has broken a week-long leftist attempt to undermine the Moderate Socialist government of President Romulo Betancourt.

The students, armed with machineguns and rifles, gave up Friday when the army moved in tanks and served notice it intended to restore order at all costs.

Seven days of bloody rioting that surged back and forth across this capital took 11 lives. Betancourt flew in troops from the interior to mop up resistance and today there were just a few scattered instances of violence.

A huge traffic jam developed near the headquarters of the Leftist Revolutionary Movement when a bus was burned.

Five Cubans were arrested by government security agents the moment they stepped off a ship carrying what the government called "Cuban-type propaganda."

Unofficial sources said a ban on the arrival of Cubans was imposed several days ago but never announced.

122 Blood Donors Here Friday 3 Short of Goal

A total of 122 pints of blood was collected at Friday's visit of the Cleveland Regional Bloodmobile in the United Steel Workers Hall, just three pints shy of attaining Salem's quota of 125 pints.

Of the 158 donors scheduled, 21 were deferred because of recent illnesses or colds, and 31 failed to keep their appointments. There were 16 walk-ins.

Louis Raymond, North Columbiana County blood program chairman, said both he and Mrs. Hobart Butcher, executive director of the local Red Cross chapter, are extremely pleased with the number of collections, in spite of failing to meet the goal.

Mr. Raymond said this was the largest list of registered prospective donors for any December visit here, and he expressed his appreciation to the people of Salem and the "wonderful staff of volunteers who came through in spite of obstacles."

The obstacles referred to by Mr. Raymond were the 31 "no-shows," who, if they had reported the inability to keep their appointments so that others could have been drafted to take their place, would have made attaining the goal possible; the hours of the collection, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. when most volunteer workers are at their jobs; and the prevalence of colds which kept some volunteer donors from being accepted.

He also pointed out that in addition to the 122 pints collected Friday, several regular donors gave blood for a recent open heart surgical case in Cleveland when 24 of the 36 donors on hand for the transfusions needed were from this vicinity.

The chairman also praised the recruiting chairman representing industry and churches for their accomplishments in signing up new volunteer donors; Dr. R. T. Holz.

Soviet Space Ship Burns Up In Landing Try

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union's race toward putting a man in space met a setback when Soviet scientists failed to bring back to earth a five-ton, dog-carrying satellite.

But the Soviets claimed their latest space ship "yielded new data for manned space flight in the near future" before it shot off course Friday and burned up in the earth's atmosphere.

Before the Soviets announced their failure—the first time they have done so—the launching was considered one of the last before a man might be rocketed into space and brought back alive.

What went wrong was not announced, but Moscow radio did say Soviet scientists signaled the satellite to return to earth on a precalculated orbit and that it veered off course and disintegrated.

The Soviets launched the satellite Thursday amidst jubilation over Soviet Premier Khrushchev. The satellite carried two dogs, Pchelka (Little Bee) and Mushka (Little Fly), plus insects and plants.

In announcing failure, Moscow radio did not mention the dogs. But it said earlier they survived the shoot into space and quickly became organically normal.

Air conditioning, heat regulation and communications aboard the ship functioned reliably, the broadcast said.

E. K. Fedorov, Soviet Academy of Science vice president, said the project's purpose was "to gather information about the response of living organisms to space travel and thus pave the way for putting a man in space."

Appointment of Luther Hodges Was Expected

Selectee Lauded
By President-Elect
At News Confab

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President-elect John F. Kennedy today chose North Carolina's Gov. Luther Hodges, 62-year-old former textile industrialist, as secretary of commerce.

Kennedy announced his selection for the $23,000-a-year cabinet post with Hodges, a Democrat, standing at his side on the patio of the home of the president-elect's parents on the Atlantic shore.

Kennedy read a statement saying he was making the Hodges appointment with great pleasure.

He added: "At a time when the strength and accelerated growth of the American economy is vital to our own prosperity and to our ability to fulfill our commitments to the cause of world freedom, the Department of Commerce has become one of the most important agencies of government."

Kennedy noted that the department employs more than 36,000 people and is spending more than a half-billion dollars this year to carry out its functions.

Kennedy then said: "Gov. Hodges will bring to his new position experience in both business and government. During the last four years, under his administration, the State of North Carolina has secured $1 billion in new investment in manufacturing activities, in addition to huge sums for electric utility expansion. Much of this was made possible through Gov. Hodges' background in industry."

"We are fortunate to be able to secure a man of Gov. Hodges' ability and background for this important post."

Hodges' selection came as no surprise since it had been rumored for weeks that he was in line for the Cabinet post.

This was Kennedy's second appointment to his Cabinet. Earlier this week, he named Gov. Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut as secretary of health, education and welfare.

The president-elect also has made two other major appointments this week—at the sub-Cabinet level. He chose David E. Bell as budget director and Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan to be assistant secretary of state for African affairs.

Kennedy had called a 10:15 a.m. news conference for the purpose of announcing a Cabinet selection.

This conference was put off for about an hour when it was learned that Hodges' train was behind schedule.

Kennedy refused to engage in any prior discussion of the announcement he planned to make. But there were these straws in the wind:

The president-elect was reportedly three weeks ago to have decided to name Hodges, 62, a textile industrialist before entering politics, to the commerce post.

Hodges, a Kennedy-for-president backer soon to retire as governor, left North Carolina Friday night by train for Palm Beach.

Kennedy headquarters said Friday night that Kennedy would disclose a Cabinet appointment this

There's a Leak In the Basement

Most of us would like to ignore the possibility that John F. Kennedy's victory in the 1960 election might be upset.

We are staggered by the idea that everything assumed to be true about the election of Kennedy and the defeat of Richard M. Nixon might be reversed by discovery of "mistakes" and fraud in vote-counting.

We are sickened by the suggestion that southern segregationists might get their heads together on a stunt to throw the 1960 election in the U.S. House of Representatives, so they could drive a hard bargain with their own candidate for his election.

But facts cannot be made to vanish by reluctance to face them.

Texas Republicans do not concede that Democrats won the presidential election in their state. They claim some 100,000 Republican votes were not counted and that these would offset the 46,233 Democratic margin that gave the state's 24 electoral votes to Kennedy.

Illinois Republicans stoutly assert that an investigation of the vote-counting in Cook County would turn up either more Republican votes or fewer Democratic votes—enough to wipe out the 8,849-vote margin by which the state's 27 electoral votes were awarded to Kennedy.

According to the Republican National Committee, no less than 35,000 letters and telegrams have been sent to it by voters demanding investigations in Illinois, Texas and states like New Mexico, Nevada, South Carolina and New Jersey.

These are not all spoilsports trying to smear a successful candidate because they liked his opponent better.

Many are American voters who insist there should be no taint on the outcome of an election.

They are people who have in mind such disturbing evidence as a 74-3 vote for John Kennedy in a Chicago south side precinct where so many buildings have been razed there are only 22 residents.

They are people who have had actual encounters with fraud, such as being denied the right to vote, although registered properly, because their names could not be found in registration books.

Out of more than 67 million votes cast, Sen. Kennedy has a less-than-200,000 majority.

His electoral vote total of 300 is the result of majorities piled up in New York, Philadelphia, Chicago and other Democratic-dominated cities. An upset in Illinois would whittle down his majority in electoral votes to 273, only four more than he needs. That, would be the signal to intensify the search for enough upsets to reverse the apparent outcome of the election.

NO ONE WANTS to admit it could happen. Chaos would follow.

No one wants to talk about it. The situation is being dodged like a leak in the basement of a new house whose tenants haven't paid the first month's rent.

Nevertheless, the leak is there. We think John Kennedy, himself, should be the first to say that he wants everything possible to be done to clear up any doubt about the outcome of the 1960 presidential election.

Vice President Nixon is not pressing any claim. But Mr. Kennedy would not want a victory clouded by doubt of its authenticity—not in the light of a popular margin that has shrunk to less than a third of one per cent.

He should be the one to call for all the cards to be put on the table face up. It's his election that needs to be brought out from under a cloud of suspicion.

Peacemakers on the Firing Line

Suddenly there is a spatter of gunfire in Leopoldville. Congolese troops surge forward against the United Nations troops surrounding the embassy of Ghana.

Their prey is the Ghanaian ambassador,

Ah Wilderness!

It has become time to point out that our world is growing more complex.

People like to view things as black or white. Life is much easier when it can be categorized and labeled in neat pigeonholes.

But life is not that easy. Consider, for instance the twisteros inflicted on pigeonhole thinking by one recent day's collection of news stories.

Moscow was depicted as merely the titular capital of Communist ideology, with the Kremlin's denizens reportedly having a tough time convincing other Communists that Moscow's policy is the one to follow.

The so-called problems of the aged, according to another report, less and less involve people over 60 who are retiring and more and more concern people even older who are dependent on people over 60 who are retiring.

And the vice president-elect of the United States, whose party staged a campaign based on downgrading the past foreign policies of the nation, has assured our NATO allies that they can depend on a "responsible continuity" in U.S. foreign policy.

The French have a phrase for this sort of thing that is so apt it has been incorporated into other tongues all over the complicated world:

C'est la vie! Darned if it isn't.

The new musical "Camelot" should have, we think, a heroine named Eliza Doolittle Guinevere and a number entitled, "I Could Have Danced All Night With All the Knights." Also a duet by Sir Launcelot and Sir Galahad, "Get Me To The Round Table on Time." Advance sale is record-breaker, despite fact folk think Camelot is the name of a cigarette, a perfume, a new compact auto.

IF THE BABY starts bawling in Sen. Kennedy's arms we trust he won't think it indicates he has lost prestige. And if he has to walk the floor with Junior he will be reaffirming his campaign declaration "we must not stand still."

Nothing Sacred

Federal Jobs For Women

By ANN COTTRELL FREE

The question of whether President-elect Kennedy's high regard for women as campaigners extends to women as administrators will be answered soon.

"One woman," his wife quotes him as saying, "is worth 10 men in a campaign."

And who should know better, having as campaigners three sisters, two sisters-in-law and his mother? More than a dozen women may be waiting for his phone call to join his "official" family. Their talents range further than merely addressing envelopes and pouring tea. (Tea and coffee parties helped to launch Kennedy politically.)

As for a woman in the Cabinet, the name of Rep. Edith Green of Portland, Ore., blinks on and off like a nervous neon sign. One day, she's touted for the Labor Department. The next, it's for Health, Education and Welfare.

If neither works out (and if she is willing to forego her House seat and her membership on the Labor and Education Committee) she may be the replacement for the GOP's Bertha Adkins of Salisbury, Md., as her under secretary.

Mrs. Green was on the Kennedy wagon—before the brass band arrived—and helped him win the Oregon primary.

Who are the other female hopefuls?

MRS. KATIE LOUCHHEIM of Washington, D. C., an immensely popular woman, is being mentioned as chief of a Consumers' Council that may be set up by the White House. Her experience as a mother, wartime government career woman politician and writer qualify her for speaking up for consumer interests in the high councils of government.

She is also mentioned, along with attorney Marjorie MacKenzie Lawson of Pittsburgh, Pa., as a successor to Mrs. Mary Pillsbury Lord of Minneapolis, Minn., at the United Nations. Mrs. Lawson headed the civil rights division of the Democratic committee during the campaign.

Mrs. Margaret Price of Ann Arbor, Mich., Kennedy's choice as head of the Democratic women, may remain on for a while. Money has to be raised to pay campaign debts. Experience in social welfare problems also fit for HEW.

The future of Mrs. India Edwards, leading Democratic woman during the Truman years and Sen. Lyndon Johnson's campaign aide, will brighten only if Kennedy forgets she hasn't always been an ardent fan. A former newspaper woman in Chicago, her only son was killed in World War II.

During the campaign a Women's Committee for New Frontiers was organized by Mrs. Kennedy to advise her husband on social-economic problems. It also advised the public that women were behind him.

Many of its career women members may prefer their own professional knitting to entanglement in bureaucratic wars. Author-scientist Rachel Carson of Silver Spring, Md., is one and philanthropist Mary Lasker of New York is another.

KENNEDY, however, has a grass roots bank of qualified women to draw on. Among them are Mrs. Helen Gunsett of Van Wert, Ohio, Mrs. Betsy Stanton of Fitchburg, Mass.; Mrs. Beatrice Rosenthal of Waterford, Conn.; Miss Dorothy O'Brien of Joliet, Ill.; Mrs. Susan Riley of Nashville, Tenn.; Mrs. Persia Campbell of Albany, N. Y.; Miss Lucia Cormier of Rumford, Me., and Mrs. Dorothy Vredenburg of Birmingham, Ala.

Experience in state jobs may be passports to Washington for Miss Genevieve Blatt, secretary for internal affairs in Pennsylvania and Mrs. Ellen Grasso, former Connecticut secretary of state.

The Kennedy call might be heeded in California by Mrs. Rudd Brown of La Canada, Mrs. Elizabeth Smith of Kirkfield and Mrs. Joan Braden of Oceanside.

Top posts held by Eisenhower women appointees are in the Women's Bureau of the Labor Department, Children's Bureau of the HEW, Civil Service Commission, subversive Activities Control Board and the Foreign Claims Settlement Commission.

One Eisenhower appointee definitely will not be replaced. She is ambassador to Norway Frances Willis of Redlands, Calif. She came up the hard way in the career foreign service, starting 35 years ago when only 26 years of age.

SIDE GLANCES

"I didn't SAY I wouldn't dry the dishes. I just said I wouldn't dry them with an embroidered towel!"

How About Congress?

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Its Role Will Affect Stability of Dollar

Everybody is discussing the kind of administration John F. Kennedy, as President, is going to give the country but there seems to be little attention focused on the kind of job the nation may expect of Congress.

Will it be a responsible or an irresponsible Congress? Will it do the things that maintain a stable dollar or will it bring about the inflation that will rob the workingman of the purchasing power of his wages?

The role played by the Democratic-controlled Congress in bringing about the chaos in the international business situation of today has not been made clear to the American people.

While, for instance, the outflow of gold is doubtless not due to any single factor, it can be persuasively argued that the Democratic leadership in Congress, by its refusal to remove the interest ceiling on U.S. government bonds of five years or more, contributed a great deal to the current crisis in gold.

Some politicians have always been inclined to feel that they can run the government on a socialist basis—that is, that they can mould the law of supply and demand to fit their own concepts of what will prove popular or bring votes.

But every now and then actual experience catches up with theory and the nation pays the penalty for the mistakes of the theorists.

WHEN INTEREST RATES in the last two years started rising all over the world, and especially in the United States because of the increasing demand for investment funds to meet the needs of natural economic growth, the United States was faced with the simple effects of the law of supply and demand.

Our government, in borrowing money, cannot be paying very much less for prime securities than the non-governmental institutions and businesses in America are paying for money. There is a close relationship between the rates on the two sets of borrowings.

Ordinarily the law of supply and demand fixes the interest rates. The U.S. Treasury, however, which has to refinance constantly the enormous public debt, cannot always wait for more propitious moments to float its loans.

It must go into the market and pay the current rate. The situation normally tends to iron itself out as demand and supply balance one another. Eventually, as the demand falls off, the interest rate drops, too.

When the Congress yields to the demagogic politicians who cry out against high interest rates, a serious blow is struck at the normal and natural processes of the law of supply and demand.

Last year and this year the Congress turned thumbs down on the request of the Treasury for a free hand in dealing with the sale of government securities.

There was a blast from the politicians that interest rates must not be allowed to rise. This view was shortsighted.

Interest rates would have not gone higher for any length of time but would have gradually reduced themselves. Meanwhile, foreign-owned funds would have remained inside the United States and there wouldn't have been such a tendency to send gold out of the country to earn the higher interest rates being paid abroad.

AS A CONSEQUENCE of the interference by Congress with the natural fixing of interest rates on a supply-and-demand basis, the business situation inside the United States was worsened.

While the steel strike caused a recession, a recovery movement this year was further complicated by the bad effects on foreign-trade markets caused by the outflow of gold from America.

Just as Congress commits a serious error in interfering with the law of supply and demand in the sale of government securities—something that makes extremely difficult the sound management or refinancing of the national debt—so also is there grave doubt whether control of interest rates domestically by the Federal Reserve can be effective as long as the Congress of the United States usurps executive functions.

The Treasury should not be deprived of the flexibility needed in handling the biggest single factor in the money markets of the world today—the price that the U.S. government is compelled to pay for borrowed funds in the open market.

Rules Vote for Rayburn

By LESLIE CARPENTER

A new plan that would give House Speaker Sam Rayburn a vote on the House Rules Committee when it deadlocks and stops liberal legislation could have been devised by a group of House Democrats who hope to sell it to Rayburn.

It is one of several proposals being made by House liberals in an effort to open the deadend street which the rules group has become for several key bills in recent years. A combination of southern Democrats and Republicans on the 12-member policy committee this year prevented the House from considering aid to education and housing bills.

The so-called informal "study group" of House Democrats now headed by Rep. Clet Holifield of California has looked over several ideas for cracking the rules logjam, including enlarging the Democratic membership—which is now eight members to four for the Republicans—and bouncing one southern Democrat, Rep. William M. Colmer of Mississippi, from its membership.

Colmer, who often votes with the Republicans when liberal and conservative divide on important and controversial bills, did not support the Kennedy-Johnson ticket in the recent election. Those suggesting his ouster cite this failure as sufficient justification for denying him a Democratic seat on the key committee.

THE NEWEST PLAN, which is credited to Rep. Richard Bolling D-Mo, calls for making the House speaker an "ex-officio" member of the Rules Committee and giving him the right to vote in the event of a tie, the same privilege he has as a member of the House itself.

As an "ex-officio" member, the speaker would not be required to attend any committee meetings except when his vote was needed and neither would he have to be concerned with other time-taking committee business. Traditionally, the speaker is never an active member of a House committee.

Since the plan was suggested—and it is being received more favorably generally than any of the others previously advanced—certain refinements are being talked about. Some House members think an improvement would be to give the committee a broader base of House leadership in "ex-officio" members.

The thought is to create three "ex-officio" memberships on the committee, to be filled by the House speaker, majority leader (Rep. John W. McCormack of Massachusetts) and minority leader (Rep. Charles Halleck of Indiana).

UNDER EITHER "ex-officio" plan—adding only Rayburn or all three House leaders—the Rules Committee couldn't deadlock with the familiar 6-6 vote any longer. The House Democratic leadership would have a vote to spare in virtually any showdown.

It is all new and interesting to Capitol Hill politicians who are awaiting the opinion of Rayburn. He is on his Texas farm for the remainder of the year pondering the Rules Committee problem among others he will face in January.

Rayburn is understood to be waiting to find out who Halleck, the Republican leader, plans to name to two GOP vacancies on the Rules group before settling on a course of action. He has expressed no opinions so far, authoritative sources report.

Two GOP conservatives will be off the committee in January. Rep. Leo E. Allen of Illinois retired from Congress and Rep. Hamer H. Budge of Idaho was defeated.

ACCIDENT CORRECTION

No injuries were recorded Wednesday in a three-car pileup on Rt. 62, just east of Alliance. According to the State Highway Patrol, an auto operated by Oldrick Foit, 41, of Alliance preceeded out of a side road into the path of an auto driven by Naomi Nichols, 34, of Sebring. As the Nichols auto slowed, it was struck by a vehicle operated by Leroy Scherach, 19, of RD 2, Salem, and forced into the Foit auto. It had earlier been reported that the Scherach auto backed from a driveway into the path of the Foit auto. This report was incorrect.

groups in the other 49 states.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon received 2,217,611 votes in Ohio, with president-elect John F. Kennedy receiving 1,944,248.

The electors will choose a chairman with Brown serving as secretary. He will forward results of Ohio balloting to Washington after the session. In Washington, the electoral votes of all the states will be tallied in a joint session of the House and Senate Jan. 6.

Said Brown:

"The constitutional performances in Columbus and in the other states capitals and finally by the Congress, accentuates the fact, often misunderstood, that under the electoral college provisions, voters do not actually vote directly for president and vice president, but rather for presidential electors, and that the number of electoral votes determines the national election, rather than the popular vote."

The 25 Republican presidential electors receiving the Nixon-Lodge vote, who will formally cast Ohio's vote for president and vice president are: Loren M. Berry, Dayton; Courtney Burton, Gates Mills; Charles M. Cain, Marietta; Dr. Joseph M. Centanni, Cleveland Heights; Frederick M. Coleman, Cleveland; Raymond E. Dix, Wooster; Homer M. were his three male traveling companions, who also were arrested at Port Francqui.

Mobutu placed his prize prisoners in the personal charge of Col. Louis Boboso, commander of the Thysville garrison, who at one time was widely mentioned as a possible successor to head the Congo's military regime.

Mobutu told newsmen Lumumba would be tried in due course for inciting rebellion in the army and other "common-law crimes."

The strongman was the lunch-guest of Gen. Carl von Horn, Swedish supreme commander of the U.N. force in the Congo. Von Horn plays little part in the U.N. mission's major policy decisions. An aide to Von Horn said Mobutu had come "mainly to relax."

(The Soviet delegation at the United Nations in New York demanded that Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold make an immediate report on steps being taken by the U. N. command to ensure the safety of Lumumba.)

(The Soviets declared in a statement the arrest of Lumumba, who accepted Soviet military aid outside U. N. channels when he was premier, was an "arbitrary and illegal act against the lawful Congolese government committed by an official, dictatorial regime.")

(Hammarskjold sent two messages to Congo President Joseph Kasavubu asking him to see that Lumumba gets a fair trial. One message was sent after a committee from Asian-African nations had expressed concern for Lumumba's safety.)

Mobutu had sworn out a warrant for Lumumba's arrest after he was dismissed by Kasavubu last September but a U. N. guard around the official premier's residence in Leopoldville, where Lumumba stayed, prevented serving the warrant.

Last Sunday Lumumba slipped past guards assigned by Mobutu to keep watch on him. U. N. officials said then that Lumumba could not expect U. N. protection outside Leopoldville.

U. N. officials Friday denied their forces attempted to interfere when Lumumba and six of his associates were arrested in the area of Port Francqui, 500 airline miles east of Leopoldville.

The students saw dry desert lands and animal life shown in natural surroundings.

This assembly was paid for from Association membership.

Joe Skrivaneck introduced the speaker, Dave Hartough assisted with the movie, and Gary Starbuck was stage manager.

The color guard was comprised of Boy Scouts, Bill Hart, Art Spack and Jim Taus; and Girl Scouts, Elaine Miles, Jodale Kilbreath and Kathie Hack.

morning and that "a gentleman of prominence" being named to the position would be at the president-elect's side for the announcement.

Had Filled One Post
In advance of today's announcement the president-elect had filled only one of the 10 Cabinet posts—Connecticut Gov. Abraham Ribicoff as secretary of health, education and welfare.

Shortly before leaving Washington the president-elect said he hopes to have his Cabinet completed, or nearly completed, by the end of next week.

Kennedy arrived in this resort community late Friday.

Kennedy's assistant press secretary, Andrew Hatcher, disclosed plans for an announcement here Sunday which he said will be of major significance.

Hatcher said it won't be a Cabinet post selection, but will deal with "the designation of a major responsibility" and the designation of personnel to carry it out after Kennedy's inauguration Jan. 20.

The president-elect plans to fly back to Washington Monday. On Tuesday he will confer at the White House with President Eisenhower regarding the transfer of government control from Republicans to Democrats.

2 Officials-Elect Report Expenses

the weekend and classes may be started in them Monday.

A three-judge federal court issued sweeping injunctions against Gov. Jimmie H. Davis, other state officials and the legislature Wednesday to prevent them from stopping integration. The court said any legislation that defeated the right of Negroes to attend public schools is unconstitutional.

Despite this, House Speaker Thomas Jewell announced Friday the legislature is withholding pay of teachers in the two integrated schools in New Orleans and has placed the teachers under investigation.

Rep. Risley C. Triche, House floor leader, said the legislature intended to find out who is fighting segregation and implementing school integration.

Tied Up School Money
The legislature tied up Orleans Parish School Board money in November. Later it voted $2.5 million to pay teachers salaries but left the way open for withholding money from teachers at the two New Orleans schools.

U. S. Dist. Judge J. Skelly Wright, who issued the integration order, Friday ordered four local banks to show cause why they should not be enjoined from refusing to honor checks of the Orleans Parish School Board. The legislature, in tying up the funds, had warned the banks they would do business with the board at their own risk. Wright set a hearing for Monday.

On the basis of the recheck of paper ballots in 62 precincts reviewed Friday, an Associated Press tally showed Nixon scored a net gain of 97 votes; Thursday he gained 174 votes in a recheck of 27 precincts.

City election officials, describing their running tally as hasty and unofficial, said Nixon gained 147 votes in paper ballot precincts over the two-day period.

Morton contended that an auditor's recheck of machine precincts disclosed a net gain of 1,214 votes for Nixon.

Dick Barnhart Sinks 28 for Beavers

Beaver Local opened the 1960-61 basketball season with a lopsided, 91-46 triumph over South Side, Pa., Friday night on the losers' hardwoods.

The winning Beavers have four returning lettermen back this year and their big gun undoubtedly will be six foot Dick Barnhart who connected on 14 field goals for 28 markers to lead the Beaver scoring against South Side.

Following the high-scoring Barnhart was Mike Durbin with 18 points, Jim Banner with 14, Bill Reed with 11 and Jim Pike with 10.

Beaver took command of the encounter right from the opening jump as they hit the hoop with point after point and raced to a 32-8 initial stanza lead.

There was no stopping the Beaver steam roller as 28 more markers were rung up on the score board in the second period to give them a comfortable lead at intermission, 60-23.

In the second half, the Beavers cooled off in their shooting as they connected for 15 points in the third period and pumped in 16 more in the final canto.

South Side had trouble from the floor in only two quarters. The second and fourth periods proved to be the best for the host five as they caged 15 markers in each of the two cantos.

Beaver dropped in 42 field goals and sank seven free throws. South Side connected on 13 fielders but rashed in on 20 charity markers.

Chuck Schmidt paced the South Side five in scoring with five fielders and 10 free throws for a total of 20 markers.

Beaver also copped the junior rarity list, 47-22.

Mineral Ridge jumped off to a 2-2 for the season.

Mineral Ridge mumped off to a 15-7 lead after the first period of play and widened their margin to 27-18 at intermission.

In the third period the Bobcats started to close the gap and came within eight points of the host five, 40-32. In the final period the Bobcats outscored the Riders, 14-9, but it was not enough to turn the tide.

Swane pumped in 19 points to lead Mineral Ridge. He was followed by Noel with 14 and Edwards with 11.

Clyde Shoff was the big gun in the Greenford offense with 16 tallies. Gary Wilt chipped in with 13 and Bob Cook added 11 for the losers.

Dennison St. Mary eked out a 44-41 cage victory over the Sebring Trojans last night at Sebring in the curtain riser for both teams.

The encounter was close from the opening buzzer. Both squads were deadlocked 4-4 after the first period and St. Mary outscored the Trojans 13-12 to take a 17-16 lead at intermission.

In the third stanza the scoring tempo picked up as the winners hooped 16 markers and the Sebring five rung up 14. Both teams pumped in 11 tallies in the final period to make it a close one right to the end.

Dale Mingledorf led the way for Sebring with 13 points followed by Jerry Billingsley with 11 and Jerry Greiner with 10.

Pitt Upsets Purdue; DePaul Tramples B-W

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer
One thing is becoming very evident early in this college basketball season: No one-man gang is going to be the decisive factor game-after-game this year as Oscar Robinson was so often last season for the Cincinnati Bearcats.

Billy (The Hill) McGill couldn't do it Thursday night when his Utah team was upset by Loyola of Los Angeles and Friday night Terry Dischinger, Purdue's high-scoring junior, couldn't either when Pitt upset the Big Ten school 81-80 in the final eight seconds.

In contrast, DePaul's Howie Carl pitched in 22 points, then got some help under boards from M. C. Thompson on the second half and DePaul easily defeated Baldwin Wallace 72-56.

Wake Forest's Alley Hart and Billy Packer scored 58 points between them as the Deacons came fast to beat Florida 85-79 despite the absence of their high scorer Len Chappell, out with injuries.

Oklahoma State used an iron man five in beating UCLA 64-58 while Oklahoma City had a 50 per cent shooting average in downing a much taller Southern Methodist team 84-78.

In other games, Oregon State defeated New Mexico State 65-57, Colorado won over Arizona 82-72, Colorado State U. beat Idaho State 71-63 while Southern California ended Los Angeles Loyola's Utah honeymoon 74-61 and Brigham Young had to go to overtime to beat Washington 65-63. Los Angeles State upset Seattle 107-100 and Vanderbilt humbled Michigan 58-43.

Tonight, Utah tries to show its talent all a big mistake when it takes on Stanford while Purdue goes against Penn State. High-scoring St. Bonaventure meets Murray (Ky.) and Indiana.

Western Reserve Buried 71-46 By Lowellville

Western Reserve felt the scoring punch of highly touted Lowellville as the Rockets blasted their way to a 71-46 basketball victory last night on the losers' court.

The encounter was the opening game for both teams.

Lowellville jumped off to a 17-7 first period margin but slacked off in the second stanza as they hit for only 11 tallies while Western Reserve meshed 10.

In the third quarter the Rockets connected for 21 markers to move to a 49-25 third period lead and hit for 22 more in the final stanza to win the tilt handily.

John Hvidsak paced the Rocket scoring as he hit for nine fielders and one free throw for 19 points. Following Hvidsak was all-Ohio footballer Jim Dovich with 15.

Heading the scorers for the losing Western Reserve five was Bill Knutti with 10 tallies followed by Jack Craig with nine and Dick Engle with eight.

Notre Dame Signs Kuharich For 3 Years
SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Joe Kuharich, receiving a strong vote of confidence from Notre Dame officials, Friday had his football coaching contract extended three years.

Kuharich, whose Notre Dame team had a 2-8 record this year including an eight-game losing streak—longest in Irish history—presumably will be head coach through the 1965 season.

Kuharich, 43, had two years to run on his current contract — a four-year pact—which was signed in December 1958.

Under Kuharich, Notre Dame has a 7-13 football record. The Irish split even in 10 games last year.

Notre Dame's Faculty Board in Control of Athletics met Friday and announced that Kuharich's contract had been extended.

The Rev. Edmund C. Joyce, executive vice president at Notre Dame and chairman of the faculty board, said Kuharich had received unanimous approval in the move to extend his contract.

Throughout Notre Dame's disastrous season and before Friday's move to extend the contract, there were rumors that Kuharich would either quit or be fired.

Fullmer Favored Over Robinson Sugar Ray Seeks Crown Fifth Time

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Champion Gene Fullmer places his middleweight title on the line tonight and Sugar Ray Robinson, who has worn the crown five times, tries for it again.

This will be the third meeting between Robinson, of New York, still a headline threat at 39, and Fullmer, the 29-year-old scrapper from West Jordan, Utah.

They go into the ring at the spacious New Sports Arena for 15 rounds or less, and many experts think it will be for less.

The match will be nationally televised over the ABC network, starting at 7 p. m., PST, with Southern California screened out.

Fullmer holds the National Boxing Association's version of the world championship. He is recognized almost everywhere except New York and Massachusetts.

Neither fighter expected a problem making the required 160 pounds at the weigh-in. Fullmer remained the betting favorite. The odds were around 2½-1 to 3-1.

For Robinson, this might be the last fight in a brilliant 20 years of ring warfare—or the start of a new phase in his career.

For Fullmer, this is a night he has awaited for three years.

It dates back to the only knockout he has ever suffered, by Robinson for the then undisputed world championship.

One explosive left hook to the chin coddled Fullmer for the count May 1, 1957, in the Chicago Stadium.

Fullmer won the title in 15 rounds in New York's Madison Square Garden, Jan. 2 that year.

In 1959 the NBA lifted its recognition of Robinson as the champion for failure to defend the crown. Fullmer won NBA recognition for the vacant title when he knocked out Carmen Basilio in San Francisco Aug. 28, 1959, in 14 rounds.

Earlier this year Robinson was outpointed by Paul Pender of Boston for the New York-Massachusetts piece of the title.

If Robinson wins, he said he will honor the return match clause and if he wins again, will aim for a third fight with Pender "to clear up the title."

"Then I'll retire," he declared. If he loses? "We don't think of that ugly word," said Robinson.

Louisville Wins 48-46 Thriller From N. Canton
Bill Sommers looped in the winning bucket with six seconds remaining Friday night as Louisville capped a great comeback effort to dump North Canton, 48-46, in a thriller at Louisville.

Sommers led the final surge, scoring all six of his points in the final four minutes as the Leopards rammed in eight straight markers to overtake a 46-40 deficit.

North Canton, trailing until the final four minutes, had snapped a 40-40 tie when Dick Snyder came through with five consecutive points and Gary Anderson added a free toss.

Following Sommers' two buckets and another by Gary Allen to knot the count with 25 seconds remaining, North Canton went into a freeze in an attempt to get the final shot. Leopards Bob Bardash forced a jump ball and controlled the tip. Louisville then froze until seconds remained and Sommers connected from the right corner.

Louisville led at each quarter stop, 14-8, 24-17 and 34-30.

Snyder took scoring honors with 22 points and Anderson added 10 for the losers. Allen's 14 and Gary Zwick's 13 points led Louisville.

The contest was the season opener for each squad.

Louisville copped the reserve game, 29-22, as Jerry Dunbar featured with 11 points. Larry Startz had 6 to pace North Canton.

Bulldogs Beaten at Foul Stripe
The ball-hawking Canfield Cardinals, led by the foul-shooting eye of center Jim Briggs, pulled a mild upset Friday with a 51-46 victory over East Palestine on the Bulldog court.

Briggs connected on all seven of his foul shots in the final quarter as the Cardinals overcame a one-point deficit after three quarters.

The Cardinals forced East Palestine into mistakes late in the game and then capitalized from the charity stripe as the Bulldogs began to foul heavily.

Canfield actually won from the free throw line, connecting on 25 of 35 chances, while being outscored from the floor, 20-13.

The free throw stripe worked just the opposite for East Palestine. The Bulldogs were able to cash in on only six of 17 attempts.

Bill Alcott and Bob Dove combined with Briggs, who had 11 points, to top the winners' scoring. Alcott hit for 13 and Dove 10.

Jim Hartshorn of East Palestine took scoring honors for the night, tallying nine times from the field and adding a foul toss for 19 markers. Jerry Bush was the only other Bulldog to hit in double figures with 10.

Canfield zoomed to an early 12-5 first quarter lead, but soon found it was in for a tussle as the Bulldogs came back with a strong second quarter to snag a 22-21 lead. Palestine was still on top, 34-33, as the final canto of under-way.

The game was the first of the season for each squad. Canfield hosts North Lima tonight, while East Palestine is idle until next week.

Oilers to Rely On Jack Lee
The Houston Oilers likely will have to depend on rookie Jack Lee again Sunday in their effort to wrap up the American Football League's Eastern Division title.

Lee, who did his pitching for the University of Cincinnati last season, made his first start as a pro two weeks ago because of an injury to regular quarterback George Blanda. He passed the Oilers to two straight victories—22-10 over Denver and 24-10 over Boston—and put them within a game of clinching the Eastern title.

Blanda, still limping badly from the ankle injury, may be ready for spot duty Sunday against the Dallas Texans. But Coach Lou Rykuss probably will have to count on Lee for most of the work.

If the Oilers win this one they're in for the Eastern title. It would give them a 9-3 record with two games to play. The other three Eastern teams already have lost six games each.

Similarly, if Houston beats Dallas and the Los Angeles Chargers would take the Western Division title. That would make it 8-4 for Los Angeles and 5-7 for Oakland and Dallas. The other Sunday games are New York at Denver and Boston at Buffalo.

The National Football League also can wind up one division race Sunday and all but end the other. The Philadelphia Eagles can clinch the Eastern title by beating the Cardinals at St. Louis. In the Western Conference, now mathematically wide open all but Baltimore and Chicago would be eliminated if the Colts should win from Detroit and the Bears from Green Bay. Other NFL games Sunday are Dallas at Los Angeles and Washington at Cleveland.

Springfield Local Crushed by Poland
The Poland Bulldogs ran up a 30 point lead at halftime and went on to swamp Springfield Local, 69-30, Friday in the season's opening game for both squads at Poland.

Poland's tough defense, which alternated between a zone and man-to-man, held the Tigers in check most of the game and forced the losers to shoot from outside.

The Bulldogs built up a 43-13 bulge at halftime and had a 58-18 margin entering the final stanza.

Four starters hit in double figures for the Bulldogs. Dave Barnhizer tallied 18 points to lead while Tim Walter had 16. Bob Fitzgerald and Bill Zimmer had 12 and 11, respectively.

Jim Allen mustered seven points to pace Springfield, as no Tiger player tallied more than two buckets.

McKay Trips Buchholz In Tennis Finals
MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) —Barry McKay of Dayton, Ohio, defeated Earl (Butch) Buchholz of St. Louis in an unprecedented all-American final for the Victoria tennis championship today 8-6, 57, 8-6, 6-3.

However, the American triumph was bulled by a sparkling doubles victory on the part of Italy's Nicola Pietrangeli and Orlando Sirola who upset Australia's Neale Fraser and Roy Emerson 6-2, 6-4, 4-6, 6-4.

It was the fifth straight time this year that the hard-serving McKay has beaten the 24-year-old St. Louis stylist. As in the previous four encounters it was a whining-ding battle before the 25-year-old lanky Ohioan finished it off in the fourth set.

Eagles Five-Point Favorites Against Cardinals Sunday

Colts Get Nod Over Lions

Browns to Tangle With Redskins

By JIM KENSIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

The last time the Philadelphia Eagles and Coach Buck Shaw were in a title game was 1949. The Eagles won and Shaw lost. Now they'd like to win together, but first they must beat the St. Louis Cardinals Sunday to clinch the Eastern Conference crown in the National Football League. The Eagles are 5-point road favorites to score their ninth straight victory.

That would give Shaw as many victories as he totaled in the past two seasons, his first with the Eagles.

His title game shot was as coach of the San Francisco 49ers in the old All America Conference.

The Cleveland Browns beat the 49ers 21-7 in the AAC's final title game, and the same year in the NFL the Eagles took the crown with a 14-0 victory over the Los Angeles Rams.

In between his time with the 49ers and Eagles, Shaw spent three years as coach at the Air Force Academy. Now the word is he'll retire after this season and would like to do it following a title game victory at Philadelphia Dec. 26.

Over whom? It could be the Shaw's old club, the 49ers, but right now it seems as if the defending champion Baltimore Colts and the winner of Sunday's Green Bay-Chicago game have the best chances.

The Colts (6-3), with a half-game lead, are 13-point favorites over the visiting Detroit Lions (4-5). At Chicago, the second-place Bears (5-3-1) are 4-point favorites over the Packers (5-4).

The 49ers (5-4) are 4-point underdogs to the Rams (3-5-1) at Los Angeles.

With only two Sundays remaining, losses by the Rams and Lions would mean elimination, and by the 49ers and Packers virtual elimination. Only the Bears, whose tie does not count in the percentages, and the Colts can afford to lose and remain title threats.

With the Eagles needing only one victory in their remaining three games, the Eastern race is to see who goes to Miami Jan. 7 to meet the Western runner-up in the league's new second-place playoff game.

The Cleveland Browns and New York Giants, both 5-3-1, are favored to win Sunday and move toward a Dec. 18 meeting that should decide who finishes behind the Eagles. The Giants are 4-point home favorites over the Dallas Cowboys (7-10), and the Browns rate 15 better than the Washington Redskins (1-6-2) at Cleveland.

The Pittsburgh Steelers (4-5-1) are idle. In the American League, Los Angeles is at Oakland, New York at Denver, Houston at Dallas and Boston at Buffalo.

Strong Minerva Five Trounces Malvern, 71-33

Minerva's powerful Leopards opened the 1960-61 basketball season with a 71-33 triumph over winless Malvern last night at Minerva.

Malvern in now 0-2. Houze with 23 markers paced the victorious Leopards. He was followed by Don Miller with 20. Minerva jumped off to a 10 point advantage, 16-6, in the first stanza and held the Malvern five to four tallies in the second period while hoopling 21 markers to forge into a commanding, 37-10 margin at intermission.

The second half was all the Leopards again as they peppered the hoop with regularity and caged 22 in the third and finished up with 12 in the fourth period.

Malvern finally got a scoring surge started and finished up with 15 tallies in the final stanza for their biggest output of the night.

Barriack and Tucci with eight and nine markers, respectively, led the losers' scoring.

Fairfield-Waterford Dumps North Lima In Season Opener

Fairfield-Waterford put together two good middle periods Friday to dump North Lima, 52-37, in non-league action at North Lima. The contest was the 1960-61 opener for both squads.

After a 9-9 tie at the quarter, Fairfield-Waterford busted out to a commanding 27-18 halftime bulge mostly on the shooting of Tom Messenger and Jim Kress. The Rebels extended the margin to 41-27 entering the final quarter.

Messenger rapped in 16 markers for the night's high honors and Kress added 10.

No zipper hit for double figures, although three came close. Ken Eichorn paced the losers with nine points while Steve Ewankowich and Jim Reed each tallied eight.

Jackson-Milton Belted by McDonald

McDonald's Blue Devils scored an easy triumph over the Jackson-Milton Blue Jays, 67-31 at intermission. In the third period Jackson-Milton flipped in 14 points to McDonald's 12 but the Blue Devils hit for 17 to Jackson-Milton's seven in the final period to ice the contest.

The winners had three men hitting in double figures as Chuck Patterson connected for 14 markers and was followed by Larry Carikido and Jim Betts with 12 points each.

Harry Daugherty provided the Blue Jay scoring punch as he led all scorers with five field goals and six fouls for 16 tallies. Columbiana Residents Join In Three Special Programs

COLUMBIANA — Columbiana area residents will take part in three separate public presentations of Christmas-theme programs on Sunday—two of the events scheduled here and one in East Palestine.

Unhappily, times conflict on the two local programs. Set for Sunday at 7:30 p.m. are the annual "Singspiration" sponsored by the Golden Link Class of Grace Church and a Christmas program arranged by the Philo Class of the Methodist Church to be held in the respective church.

Earlier Sunday, at 3 p.m., the annual presentation of the "Messiah" will be made by the Community Chorus in the East Palestine Methodist Church. Columbiana residents singing in the 72-voice chorus are Mrs. Karl Bott, Mrs. John Heintzelman, Mrs. Thomas Richardson, Mrs. John Swope, Eileen Grim, Mr. and Mrs. William Rymer, Jim Koehler and Dale Guchemmand.

PHILO CLASS program at the Methodist Church will feature a one-act play, "Lift Thine Eyes," directed by Mrs. George Seederly. The cast includes Mrs. Lewis Way, Mrs. Robert Maurer, Mrs. William Longworth, Mrs. A. R. Karcher, Mrs. Russell Hum, Mrs. Louise Gormley, Mrs. Clara Gilmore and Mrs. Wilder Foertch. Heading up various fields of work in preparing the program were: Mrs. Wilson Lower, staging; Miss Cathrynne Esenwein, publicity; Mrs. Willard Hetrick, program; Mrs. Allan White, makeup; and Mrs. Delmar Hum, ushers.

The "Singspiration" at Grace Church will include several choruses, vocal soloists and instrumental selections. This will be the 10th annual presentation of the program.

THREE NEW DEN MOTHERS were installed at the recent meeting of Cub Scout Pack 69. They are: Mrs. James Miller, Den 2; Mrs. Dwain Burt, Den 4; and Mrs. Arno Holderread, Den 6.

Several awards were made at the meeting; wolf badges were presented to Billy Kendall, David Holderread and Allan Eckert; Bear badges to Dickie Bott and Dennis Lipely; Lion badge, Wells Koehler; Webelos certificates, Terry Knisely and Jimmy Lehman; one-year pin, Dale Williams; two-year pins, Gary Miller and Gary Schlag.

Judge Sharp Remits $15,000 In Death Suit

LISBON — At a hearing Thursday on a motion for a new trial in a $40,000 verdict returned by a jury Oct. 21 in a wrongful death civil suit, Common Pleas Court Judge Joel H. Sharp remitted $15,000 from the first cause of action of $25,000 returned by the jury and then refused the defendant a new trial.

Mrs. Helen Reed of East Liverpool, administratrix of the estate of her father, Frank Cameron, was granted $25,000 for his death plus $15,000 for pain and suffering from the Brada Cartage Co., Detroit.

The judge ruled that the jury didn't reach its verdict as a result of passion and prejudice, as claimed by defendant, but that the verdict of the jury in first cause of action was not sustained by the evidence.

The court found that the evidence would sustain a verdict of $10,000 on the first cause of action, and with the consent of the plaintiff, ordered a remittance of $15,000.
